UNIVERSITY OF MARYLAND
SCHOOL OF PHARMACY

DEAN'S DEDICATION

During the past academic year, you have spent countless hours in class and in the lab, studying, training, researching and representing the University of Maryland School of Pharmacy at practice sites. The journey through our rigorous four year program is a challenging one, but one that you are being well prepared for by world-class faculty and staff. With their instruction and expertise and your perseverance, you will be ready to practice pharmacy upon graduation at one of the most exciting times in the history of health care.

Today, as the most accessible member of the healthcare team, pharmacists have an opportunity to directly impact a patient's health and to work in collaboration with other healthcare providers to improve the quality of life and health outcomes of patients. You are uniquely positioned to provide high quality, compassionate care because your duties as a pharmacist will be dramatically different from your predecessors. The opportunities awaiting you are endless!

The education you are receiving at the School of Pharmacy is an important and significant part of your life as this is the place you are learning the clinical and scientific skills necessary to be a practicing pharmacist in the 21st century. Equally important is what the School continually learns from its students. You provide new enthusiasm and advocacy for the profession and challenge the School to continually evaluate its curriculum and teaching methods to ensure we are graduating the most prepared pharmacists we possibly can.

As a graduate of the University of Maryland School of Pharmacy myself, I know that the friendships made in our classrooms and halls will be ones you maintain no matter where your career and life take you. The memories captured in this yearbook provide a snapshot of the past year, one filled with accomplishments, achievements and challenges. Your spirit and advocacy are unmatched on the University of Maryland, Baltimore campus. Whether you are graduating and embarking on your career or returning to the School in the fall, I encourage you to maintain that spirit and enthusiasm for the pharmacy profession and for our School.

Best wishes,

Dean Natalie D. Eddington, PhD 89

PHARMACY HALL ADDITION GROUNDBREAKING

September 19, 2008

On Friday, September 19, 2008, Dean Eddington invited students, faculty, and staff to the official groundbreaking for the Pharmacy Hall Addition of the School of Pharmacy. After fighting year after year for money to fund the addition to our school, the legislation finally passed and the school received $62 million in state funds. To celebrate, Maryland governor Martin O'Malley was invited to speak at the ceremony. Pharmacy Hall Addition will allow our school to expand its enrollments, addressing the shortage of pharmacists in the workforce. The building will house larger lecture halls, expanded experiential learning facilities, research laboratories, and state of the art technologies. It is scheduled to be complete in the fall of 2010.

40 years of Service to Maryland Pharmacy

Dr. B came to us in 1969 under Dean Kinnard. The class size was 40 students, 39 men and one woman.

He is a provider of sustenance - knowledge, humor, and good hot food at each of our picnics.

The numerous "toys" on his desk might very well be for his amusement but he offers them up with a smile to help reduce our stress and keep our spirits up when things are crazy.

Thank you Dr. B for the all that you have done for the students of the University of Maryland School of Pharmacy through the years.

Dr. Anthony Tommasello

34 years of Service to Maryland Pharmacy

A conversation with Dr. T:

What do you think your impact on the students and the School of Pharmacy has been?

I've been a one trick pony. My career was and continues to be focused on the causes and treatments for addiction and trying to define practice roles for pharmacists in this disease space. I have witnessed a growing level of interest in this area among students in terms of wanting to acquire both knowledge and practice skills as well as being sensitive to the personal tragedy and stigmatizing aspects of the condition. So maybe my career has awakened students to the need for these services and the practice opportunities that await them in this field.

Is there anything you would like to communicate to the students?

My belief is that God guides our work and we should give ourselves over to His calling. It may be presumptuous of me to assume that we can know His calling, but I can urge students to pursue and accept only those positions that they will perform with great enthusiasm and passion.

Remain professionally connected. While every student eagerly looks forward to graduation day, it is a poignant moment to cross the stage and realize that the years spent in the caldron of education forge ties that last a lifetime. An active professional life keeps those associations fresh and vibrant.

Also, give time to family and charitable service. As the old saying goes, there is none who, in his or her last days will say, "Gee - I should have spent more time at the office."

What have you enjoyed about your time here?

Without question the most enjoyable part of my career and my time at the school has been the joy and privilege of interacting with students, especially those who participated in the SCODAE program. This connection was very strong, the commitment was (and still is) very deep. When I considered changing jobs I knew that I would miss that aspect of teaching, as indeed I have.

What are your current plans for the future?

Although I continue to be fully employed in my new position in industry I remain very active in the program for impaired pharmacists (Pharmacists Education and Advocacy Council PEAC) and foresee spending more time enjoying my family and sailing.

A note about the horizons ahead...

The theme for Terra Mariae this year is "A New Horizon", an idea contributed by Elena Torbert, from the Class of 2010. "A New Horizon" signifies the expansion of our school with the progress of the Pharmacy Hall Addition, as well as the expanding opportunities that await us when we become pharmacists. It is a time to look forward to new beginnings. We from the Terra Mariae staff hope that you will enjoy this yearbook and wish you all the best for what lies ahead.

Exploring Distant

Class of 2012

The adventures of the Shady Grove Class of 2012 began as 40 students, strangers then, started their journey together through the first year of pharmacy school. Outside of the concerns of keeping up with the classroom material there were some worries that the students would stay strangers. Today, however, the Class of 2012 has become a closely knit group of friends. The first year students typically spend about two to four days on campus for required activities, but students often plan other events on or around campus to get to know each other better. From study sessions at the Shady Grove library, coffee runs, breakfasts after the 7:30 AM exams, lunch breaks, bowling nights, ice skating, karaoke, hiking, and DC trips, Shady Grove students are able to enjoy the comforts of a suburban campus and all that the DC metro area has to offer.

First years go out to lunch after CPR training.

Horizons and Times at Shady Grove

Class of 2011

The Shady Grove student population is growing thanks to the additional forty first year students that attended the Shady Grove campus this fall. It was an exciting change to have more of a representation of the School of Pharmacy in Rockville, MD. The Shady Grove campus now has an equal mixture of first and second year student pharmacists. A typical week for Shady Grove students requires students to be on campus an average of two to four days a week. All of the lectures are available asynchronously through mediasite. Contrary to the belief that distance learning would make the students strangers to each other, the class of 2011 is a close-knit group of people. While students are not required to be on campus every day, many students still come to study in groups. While being pioneers of the distance learning program, the students have developed a sense of camaraderie and lasting friendships. While the exam schedule and course load kept second year students busy, they still managed to have some fun. The first major social event with second and first year students was a Washington Nationals game in D.C.

The fall of 2008 also marked the opening of the new practice lab at the Shady Grove campus. Before the construction of the new lab, Shady Grove students had all labs on the Baltimore campus. The new lab is a spacious area with 2,000 square feet. The practice lab consists of a simulated pharmacy and counseling suite. The model pharmacy has 14 order entry terminals for students to practice entering prescriptions and screening for drug interactions. The large counseling area provides a space for the students to develop their counseling and medication therapy management skills with mock patients.

New Beginnings, New Horizons

The Class of 2012: The Next Generation of Student Pharmacists

First year is about working hard while at the same time meeting new people, making new friends, and enjoying what little free time we do have.

Vicky Dang

The students in the Class of 2012 began their journey toward becoming pharmacists in August 2008. Many knew before starting at the University of Maryland that pharmacy school was going to be stressful and challenging but most did not plan on the friendships and the memories that they would create along the way. As students pharmacists, they now faced a new horizon with bigger goals and greater promise.

While this past year was tough on all of us, we still seemed to find time to have fun. Some of my favorite memories from this year are from study sessions at PLC with my friends.

Neal Vasist, Nicole Rumao, Eric Tong, Omosigho Osian and Nikunj Patel enjoy the day during the Fall School picnic, which was sponsored by SGA. All of the students and faculty were invited to the Fall Picnic and it was the first school event for the Class of 2012 to participate in.

The SGA consists of the executive board, presidents from each organization, all of the class officers, student chairs of committees, and our advisors Dr. Cynthia Boyle and Dr. Jill Morgan. We meet at the beginning of each semester during a retreat where we discuss organizational goals. Meetings are held every other Wednesday. The SGA council has worked extremely hard this school year to bring activities such as the fall picnic, fall formal, and spring picnic to strengthen bonds of the student body, Diabetic Halloween to contribute to the community, and legislative day to strengthen our profession.

inspire

There have been Greek letter fraternal societies in pharmacy long before the establishment of an honor society in pharmacy. For years, plans have existed for that special kind of fraternal group whose main purpose would be to stimulate scholarship and research and whose membership would reflect the intellectual and human qualities necessary to breathe life into the society's aims.

It is into this tradition and respected fellowship that we invite you. We have chosen with care, mindful of the responsibilities that will be yours, for soon in your hands will rest the welfare of the omicron chapter, which others have labored to establish and maintain.

Rho Chi offers you an opportunity and stimulus for greater service. Our membership confers distinction, but keep this well in mind: no distinction, no honor, no privilege comes to anyone without added responsibilities.

The Rho Chi Society, pharmacy's academic honor society, encourages and recognizes excellence in intellectual achievement and fosters fellowship among its members. Further, the Society encourages high standards of conduct and character, and advocates critical inquiry in all aspects of pharmacy.

The Rho Chi Society seeks to achieve universal recognition of its members as lifelong intellectual leaders in pharmacy. As a community of scholars, the Society will instill the desire to pursue intellectual excellence and critical inquiry to advance the profession. Your actions should reflect pharmacy at its best and the high standards symbolized by your Rho Chi insignia.

Hard work, perseverance, and an unwavering work ethic are the core values which personify current and future members of Rho Chi. We invite you to share in our gentle ideals and high level of spirit.

SCODAE had another successful year under new advisors, Drs. Truong and DiPaula. Four officers attended the University of Utah's School on Alcoholism and Other Drug Dependencies program in July, where they were able to learn many valuable lessons about drug abuse and pharmacy. Then, SCODAE members began the year with the annual spaghetti lunch.

Once the course was completed, pharmacy students were prepared to educate the community. During the winter break, several students taught the SCODAE course at Elkton High School and others will teach during the spring and next winter.

Fall Formal 2009

The 1840s Ballroom , Baltimore, MD
September 30, 2009

A 'how to' guide for attending formal:

- (1) pose for pictures before heading in, so that the night may be remembered always
- (2) dinner time: eat and drink as much as you possibly can to make your ticket 'worth it'
- (3) hit the dance floor and boogie down until your heart is content
- (4) goodnight folks! the door is that-a-way...don't let it hit you on your way out

2009

Legislative Day

February 12th, 2009 Annapolis, MD

Waking up for a 7:30 a.m. exam is no easy feat, but over 130 students from both Baltimore and Shady Grove campuses left at 6 a.m. in the darkness to make the trek to Annapolis for the annual Pharmacy Legislative Day. The day was filled with legislative visits to individual senator and representative offices, and students had the opportunity to observe the House of Delegates' morning session and to be acknowledged by Delegate Donald Elliott. This year, student pharmacists also participated in the first-ever brown bag session and assisted with blood pressure screenings and medication reviews.

Student Advocacy

New events at the Pharmacy School

This year saw an amazing expansion of student advocacy events which increased the exposure of student pharmacists to important legislative issues. From a trip to the Capitol for an Effective Leadership and Advocacy course to a P3 program with guest speaker Delegate Rudolph, students have played an integral role in increasing awareness of the power of advocacy. This year was also the inaugural year for the Society of Workforce Advocates in Pharmacy, which hosted many new events this year at the School of Pharmacy. Some of the events include the speech competition held in December, an event on disabilities awareness, and workshops to enhance student involvement in advocacy and to improve advocacy skills.
